One price for your whole private group. No hidden extras, no shared car.

Georgia has over 500 native grapes and still makes wine in qvevri, clay jars buried in the ground.

Highlights

- Qvevri cellars: the UNESCO-listed clay-jar method
- Tastings at the Khareba Wine Tunnel and with the winemakers
- Cook your own lunch in a Georgian cuisine class
- Grapes you won't find outside Georgia
- Nekresi and Alaverdi monasteries and the Gremi royal complex

Day by day

Qvevri cellars, old monasteries, small biodynamic vineyards and tastings with the winemakers.

DAY 1

Arrival to Kakheti: Sighnaghi & First Taste of Georgian Wine

Begin your journey to Kakheti, the birthplace of the world's oldest winemaking tradition, with the drive east to the Alazani Valley.

- Visit Sighnaghi, the "City of Love": cobbled streets, the old town walls, and views across the Alazani vineyards to the Caucasus
- Nekresi Estate: vineyard and winery visit, Georgian Qvevri winemaking traditions, wine tasting of local grape varieties, and a traditional Georgian food pairing
- Georgian Traditional Cuisine Master Class at Nekresi Estate: hands-on cooking with a local host

Overnight at Nekresi Estate, Kvareli, breakfast included.

DAY 2

Ancient Monasteries & Traditional Winemaking

Start the day with one of Kakheti's most impressive historical sites.

- Nekresi Monastery: an ancient monastery overlooking the Alazani Valley, one of the most scenic viewpoints in Kakheti, and the connection between Christianity and Georgian wine history
- Khareba Wine Tunnel: underground wine tunnels, traditional and modern winemaking methods, and a tasting
- Ruispiri Biodynamic Vineyard: a small estate focused on natural winemaking: meet the winemakers, explore biodynamic vineyard practices, taste small-batch wines and sit down at a Georgian table

Overnight at Ruispiri Biodynamic Vineyard, breakfast included.

DAY 3

Royal Kakheti History: Gremi & Alaverdi

A day for the history of the ancient Kakhetian kingdom.

- Gremi Architectural Complex: explore the former royal capital of Kakheti, its historic churches and fortress, and the golden age of the Kakhetian kingdom
- Alaverdi Monastery: one of Georgia's oldest monasteries, with medieval architecture, centuries-old wine traditions, and the Caucasus behind it

Overnight at Ruispiri Biodynamic Vineyard, breakfast included.

DAY 4

Slow Morning & Farewell to Kakheti

A relaxed final morning before returning to Tbilisi.

- Free morning in Kakheti, at your own pace

Departure: Kakheti to Tbilisi / Tbilisi Airport.
